

Nebraskaland Magazine Photo Library

Photographic Lending & Publishing Rights Agreement

Photo Credit Line: Each photographic illustration provided by Nebraskaland Magazine must be properly credited. Preference is given to “Nebraskaland Magazine/Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.” The exact content, style, and location may conform to that used in the rest of the product, but must at least use include the words “Nebraskaland Magazine.” For website use, the words “Nebraskaland Magazine” must be placed near the image.

Intended Use: The singular intended use, and only acceptable use, for this particular agreement, as explained by the client, named below, for the image(s) is:

Duration of Loan: All physical forms of photo loans must be returned within 90 days. All electronic copies of digital images loaned must be completely and wholly removed from all electronic equipment belonging to the borrower within 90 days.

Image Ownership: All images that appear in Nebraskaland Magazine, and/or any images photographed by Nebraskaland Magazine staff, are the sole property of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission (NGPC) and are not available for publication by any other group, agency, organization, or individual without prior written agreement from the Photo Library. The use of any image is granted by the Photo Library for one-time, non-exclusive reproduction only and can only be extended for further use upon the development of additional or expanded agreements. Neither NGPC staff nor public patrons may loan, give, or otherwise make available to any other organization or person, any image provided by this library – to do so qualifies as copyright infringement. Patrons who violate this agreement will be fined accordingly.

Fees: One-time, non-exclusive rights to use image(s) are granted with the signing of this agreement and the payment of Photo Library research, digitization and handling costs. Fees must be paid within 90 days, are non-refundable, and subject to change.
